JOB 10:1

*I am tired of living,
listen to my bitter complaint.
Don't condemn me, God*

There is no other Biblical character, in my opinion, who suffered as much as Job... loss of family, wealth, health and ridicule of his friends, to name a few. I found it difficult to even imagine anyone being tormented and agonized with so little hope.

I tried facial expressions by making faces into a mirror but, “woe is me”, I couldn’t even come close. Maybe the fact that the joyful Christmas season was approaching as I was working on this sculpture had something to do with my difficulty. I was reminded that in spite of everything Job hung onto his faith in God.
